

CANADIAN CENTRE OF INTELLIGENCE AND SECURITY STUDIES INAUGURAL CONFERENCE

Canada's Foreign Intelligence Requirements: Threats, Capabilities and Options

12 June 2002
Southam Hall, Theatre B
Carleton University

PROGRAM

8:45 a.m. Welcome: Professor Martin Rudner

Greetings from the Parliament of Canada:

Senator Michael Forrestall

David Pratt, MP

Chair, Standing Committee on National Defence and Veterans Affairs

Greetings from the Faculty of Public Affairs and Management

Allan Maslove, Dean

9:00 a.m. Panel 1: Canadian Involvement in Foreign Intelligence: History, Policy and Values

Chair: Keith Coulter (Chief, Communications Security Establishment)

Wesley Wark (University of Toronto): The Evolving Role of Intelligence in Canadian Foreign and Defence Policy: An Historical Perspective.

Angela Gendron (Canadian Association for Security and Intelligence Studies): The Quest for an Ethical Framework for Intelligence.

Scott Hogan (Nortel Networks): Intelligence Lessons in Corporate Canada: Perspectives on Collection, Analysis, and Impact.

11:00 a.m. Panel 2: Threat Assessments and Requirements:

Chair: Ward Elcock (Director, Canadian Security Intelligence Service)

Paul Wilkinson (Centre for the Study of Terrorism and Political Violence, St Andrew's University): International Terrorist Networks.

Norman Hillmer (Carleton University): Intelligence Requirements for Peacekeeping.

David Carment (Carleton University): Early Warning of Risks and Threats.

12:30 p.m. Lunch:

2:30 p.m.     Keynote Speaker: Arthur Kroeger
Chancellor, Carleton University

“Intelligence in Canadian Public Policy”

3:00 p.m.     Panel 3: Strategic Roles and Expectations

Chair: Maureen Molot (Director, Norman Paterson School of International Affairs, Carleton University)

Irwin Cotler, MP: International Law and Intelligence.

John Gannon (Intellibridge; Central Intelligence Agency, retired): American
Perspectives on Canada’s Role in International intelligence and Security
Affairs.

Martin Rudner (Carleton University): Canada and International Intelligence Cooperation.

4:30            Roundtable Discussion: Exploring Future Options:

Chair: Jacques Shore (Gowling, Lafleur, Henderson LLP)